• A CRIMEAN SCENARIO IN THE BALKANS?

- More: Balkan Wars Vladimir Putin Crimea Ukraine Crimea Crimea Russia Balkans Russia Crimea

Throughout these recent days when Russia abruptly had been taking the part of Ukraine, the most prominent words and comments we heard from Western leaders were: "We are deeply concerned"! What is following now are "steps and moves"! But what are they in reality? Economic sanctions, blockades or whatever? Do they, actually, have potential to stop this wave? Or, are we witnessing the response of weaken which is nothing more than rhetorical maneuvers?

And still, one more turbulent region, it seems, is going the very same way: the Balkans.

At least, until we see whether Mr. Vladimir Putin hears the signals from the Balkans. And those are being sent to him from Serbian "brothers" both from Bosnia and Serbia.

It might be of concern to wider international scene that among very few politicians that congratulated to Mr. Putin on annexation of Crimea was the local nationalist leader Mr. Milorad Dodik, the president of Republika Srpska, the Serb entity within Bosnia and Herzegovina...

/.../ Interestingly, Serbia has taken the same stance. Mr. Aleksandar Vucic, the winner of Serbia's recent elections and future prime minister is just weighing and evaluating from which side Serbia will get a better deal. On the one hand, there is EU process of integration, for which Serbia is very interested, but on the other, one needs to be aware of traditional historical alliances of Serbs and Russians as brotherly Slavic and Orthodox peoples.

/.../ This can be very dangerous especially when we witness reincarnation of old bi-polar rivalries that are just appearing on global stage. Also, this year's 100th anniversary of the start of First World War is excellent opportunity to re-examine the role of Serbia. One century ago Serbia provoked the outbreak of the first global conflict in Sarajevo, the capital of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

It is still holding similar positions using Bosnian Serbs as proxies to control the region for its own (and wider Slavic-Russian) interests.

Times since then changed, but geopolitics of Balkan did not...

/.../ It is not accidental that Crimean scenario is being compared to Bosnia. Empowered by the developments in Ukraine and weak reaction of Western powers, Mr. Dodik is now openly calling for Bosnia to be divided as confederation of three states, and if that proposal fails he threatened a referendum on secession. At the same time Belgrade is still looking at the Republika Srpska as compensation for the loss of Kosovo and thus helps Serbs by all means to impede the development of Bosnia and Herzegovina. The Croat and Bosniak politicians are confused without a clear and convincing vision how to repel these secessionist developments. The current High Representative Mr. Valentin Inzko is also confused and weak to stop further deterioration of the Bosnian state institutions. And while all this is developing we still hear European and American leaders repeating the clichés of them being "committed to peace," and them being "deeply concerned"! What if Mr. Putin decides to try "Crimean pattern" in the Balkans? Shall we again see the start of new world conflict at the same place where it started a century ago?

S&P loše prognoze za srBIA-u

Autor: Miloš Podbarčanin

• Grčki scenario pred vratima

Da Svet I TE KAKO posmatra srBIA-u – ali ne u smislu populističke retorike (to kod njih ne pali) – već u smislu šta se radi (a tu igra veliku ulogu i spoljna politika koju ista vodi) govori i najnoviji izveštaj Standard & Poor agencije (verovatno jedne od najvažnijih u smislu kreditnog i investicionog ocenjivanja), koja kaže da se srBIA i dalje nalazi na nivou tzv. Junk-a (kreditno i investiciono nestabilne; negativne za davanja i ulaganja), sa NEGATIVNOM TENDENCIJOM!

/.../ Šta to znači? To znači da je država procenjena kao visokorizična – drugim rečima: grčki scenario.

I ma koliko mnogi bili indiferentni – čak i inatni (ma ko ih...) – to znači da srBIA neće dobiti nikakve kredite, od kojih zapravo država i društvo – ŽIVE.

Neće biti para za budžet.

Plate.

Penzije.

Zdravstvo.

itd itd.

Za državno rukovodstvo to znači gladan i nezadovoljan narod na ulicama – i ko zna šta još u takvom slučaju;

krajnja desnica i Putinovi čak i priželjkuju takav scenario, gde bi napravili državni udar, nakon čega bi i najizvesnije buknuo krvavi građanski rat – a srBIA se u potpunosti urušila i raspala.

Pred Aleksandrom Vučićem nije samo problem hitnog rešavanja gorućih problema i reformi, ostaje nejasno DA LI ĆE srBIA potpisati novi ugovor sa MMF-om – čije kreditiranje se upravo dobrim delom bazira i na izveštaju S&P.

Aleksandar Vučić – ukoliko misli da bilo šta uradi, prvo i osnovno mora da napravi takve rezove – i takvu promenu, pa i spoljne politike;

da se, ili u potpunosti okrene EU i Zapadu, raskine sve veze i planove sa Putinovom Rusijom, ili ga jednostavno neće biti.

Ni njega – a ni srBIA-e.

Jelko Kacin: Vajdaságban megfelelő a kisebbségek helyzete

Megfelelő jogvédelmet kapnak a Vajdaságban élő kisebbségek, jelentette ki Jelko Kacin, az Európai Parlament szerbiai jelentéstevője ma Brüsszelben, de megjegyezte, a meglévő törvényeket következetesen kell alkalmazni és elhárítani a tartomány alkotmányos jogállásával kapcsolatos kétségeket.

„A nemzeti tanácsok rendszerének köszönhetően a kisebbségek jogai megfelelő védelmet kapnak” – mondta Jelko Kacin az Európai Parlament
