

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS SUMMER SCHOOL AND PROJECT “CHALLENGE HISTORY – REACT FOR THE FUTURE”

28 July - 1 August, 2021 (26 July - 3 August including online sessions)

Place: Mokrin, Serbia (online through Zoom platform)

Deadline for Applications: 21 July 2021

The Helsinki Committee for Human Rights in Serbia and its project partners¹ are pleased to announce the call for applications for the Summer School of “Challenge History – React for the Future”, which will be held 28 July - 1 August 2021 (26 July - 3 August including online sessions) in Mokrin, Serbia, financially supported by the Regional Youth Cooperation Office (RYCO).

We are inviting open-minded students from high schools (16-18 years old only) in North Macedonia, Bosnia and Herzegovina (BiH), Serbia, Montenegro and Kosovo* to apply for the Summer School.

The Summer School will enable its participants to:

- Actively reflect on historical narratives, particularly those related to the recent wars/ conflicts in the Balkans;
- Reconsider and exchange views about real-life stories, and use open dialogue and constructive approach to debunk the ethnic myths, and counter revisionist propaganda;
- Increase their regional network and strengthen cross-country neighborly relations; and
- Increase their critical thinking through fun and creative activities.

Information about the Summer School “Challenge History – React for the Future”

¹ Centre for Peace and Tolerance (Kosovo*), Democracy Plus (Kosovo*), United World College Mostar (Bosnia and Herzegovina), Grammar School Slobodan Škerović (Montenegro), the Helsinki Committee for Human Rights in North Macedonia, and Mokrin House in Serbia, as a contributor.

Costs and expenses: The organizers will cover all the costs of travel, visas, COVID-19 tests, health insurance, accommodation and meals during the seven working days. Members of the organization staff will accompany students on their travel from the capital of their home country to Mokrin and back.

Working language: English – participants must have a good working knowledge of the English language.

Covid-19 Safety Protocol: Given the current Covid-19 epidemiological situation² in the region, the physical summer school is possible, provided that following measures preventing the coronavirus infection will be in place:

- Providing participants with health insurance enabling them to receive adequate and timely medical care in case of the coronavirus infection;
- Presenting negative PCR test taken less than 48 hours before the date of travel;
- Checking temperature during the summer school, three times a day (morning, mid-day, evening);
- Keeping physical distance during school;
- Organizing lectures outside whenever possible (subject to weather conditions only);
- Wearing masks during the summer school and socializing events;
- Providing disinfectants
- Cleansing and disinfecting premises on an everyday basis.

One person from the side of the consortium will be designated as a Covid-19 security guard to ensure that all the above-mentioned measures are respected.

Program: The Summer School “Challenge History– React for the Future” will consist of the following four main modules:

- Legacies of the Yugoslav wars
- Contrasting/shared historical narratives
- Common heritage of the post-Yugoslav states
- Culture of remembrance

Each module will be organized in an interactive way and be based on a variety of formats, such as lectures, theatre workshops, site visits, debates, case studies, creative activities and production of media. Distinguished experts will lead all the modules. In addition to the program modules, cultural and evening side-events will be organized based on participants' inputs. In addition to this, as the school's format is hybrid, consisting of both online and in person sessions, the participants have the opportunity to attend all sessions online via Zoom platform if not able to join physically.
